We're Moving Ahead with Members First Slate!

More UNITY!

"Last election I voted for the Cornerstone Slate. Now that I have seen how the new officers are getting things done I am supporting Members First. They are hard-working and effective and are building the kind of unity I want to see in Local 728."

Unity is growing in Local 728, for the first time in a long time. New leadership, combined with a jump in membership participation, is fueling this positive trend.

Greater unity means stronger representation for all Local 728 members. Working together we are able to win more grievances, organize more effectively and secure stronger contracts.

That is why members who supported other slates in the fall election now support Members First.

In the past our local officials put self-interest ahead of unity and our local suffered as a result. Now those same individuals who lost the fall election are at it again. We can't let them turn back the clock.

The rerun election is our chance to show that Local 728 is more unified than ever before.

"When I ran for office last fall I believed that Local 728 was in desperate need of new and professional leadership. The old officers were just not getting the job done in terms of representation and leadership.

"Based on what I have seen of the new administration, I believe that our local is now moving in the right direction. And unlike others who throw their support behind anyone who promises them a job, my support is based on what I believe is best for our local union. I urge Local 728 members to vote in the election and to throw their full support behind the new administration and the Members First Slate."

"Members First Slate" Shows Its Colors — They Say "Us First ... Members Last!"

The so-called "Members First Slate" sneaked into controlling positions on our Local 728 Executive Board in the recent election that now must be re-run. But after only a few weeks of their rule, we already have a good idea what this crowd would do to us if we let them stay in office!

In an outrageous display of political patronage, the so-called "Members First Slate" has already padded the Local 728 payroll with slate cronies. All the new supporters they've hired officially add $250,000 per year to our union payroll! (Showing their priorities, "Members First" has decided not to keep a union Organizer's position.)

The former E-Board in December voted unanimously not to pay the American Arbitration Association the balance of the $20,000. Local 728 has only paid $500. In January, the present E-Board also voted unanimously not to pay the balance to the American Arbitration Association, for the tainted election.

And there's more. The so-called "Members First" officers immediately rewarded themselves with extra Southern Conference pensions immediately after taking office. So much for "reform"!

"Members First" — now known as "Us First, Members Last" — could only sneak into office because the vote in the first election was split between FOUR slates.

"Us First, Members Last Crowd" hires their friends and grabs pensions — and the members get screwed!

Now, your Local 728 Experience Slate has united the opposition to "Us First, Members Last". Let's take back our local! Vote the Local 728 Experience Slate!

Ballots will be mailed to members' homes by March 30th.

- Larry Odom: run for Trustee but did not win. He campaigned long and hard. Randy did not even consider hiring Larry as a full-time agent. Yet Randy hires two (White Americans) freight agents. Doris Sanders and David Garmon (Doris did not even campaign for Randy).

- Alonzo Williamson: I believe got more votes than anybody on Randy's ticket yet Randy is offering Alonzo crumbs off the Masters table. Why not a full-time agent? Alonzo campaigned in the pouring down rain but looked upon as be thankful I (Randy) gave you some crumbs .

- Scott Webber: Yes the only one on his ticket with a full-time job. I wonder if Randy tried not to hire Scott. Randy gave Scott only one freight barn (ABF) but gave Doris and David the majority of the freight barns. I really believe Randy does not trust Scott and that he is incompetent to do the job. So Randy gave him some miscellaneous work.
